THREE NEW ROADS IN THIS COUNTY

New State Law Places Three Roads
through Adams County under State Control. Network of Good Roads in this Section.

Under the provisions of the Frey
bill, just signed by Governor Tener, seventy-seven routes are to be added to the main State highways. The State will take possession of these new roads in June 1915, and thenceforth will be responsible for their maintenance, as is the case with regard to the 296 main State roads already taken under the terms of the Sproul highway act. The new routes in Adams County are:

Gettysburg National Park to Maryland State line, one mile north of Emmitsburg, via Greenmount.
York to Shippensburg, via Farmers,
East Berlin, Heidlersburg, Biglerville, Arendtsville, Boyds and Cleversburg.
Dillsburg, to East Berlin, via Franklintown.

With the seven State highways now entering Gettysburg, under the provisions of the Sproul act, these additional routes will cover the county with a network of fine roads, which is still further extended by the stretches of battlefield avenues and other State roads which may be found in several sections.

It is said that the plan of representatives of the State Highway Department for quick work on the section of the cross-state highway from Bedford to Gettysburg is being delayed, along with other work, on account of recent developments in appropriation matters.

MORE LAWLESSNESS

Pen-Mar Man Pursued and Fired Upon
by Highwaymen.

Fred Collus, manager of the roller skating rink at Pen-Mar Park, came near being killed by highwaymen
Thursday evening, near where Wilmer Watson was held up and shot. Mr.
Collus had gotten off the midnight
trolley car from the park to Cascade station and started to walk to the Lakeside cottage of Mr. and Mrs. T.
A. Wastler, where he was a guest. He had not walked very far before a number of men emerged from the woods and started in pursuit of him. Mr.
Collus ran and when they found they could not overtake their intended victim, they fired their revolvers six times at him and the bullets whizzed by his head. He ran into the yard of the Was-tler home and called for help. Mr.
Wastler and his son, Samuel Wastler,
hearing the cries of the young man,
hurried to the porch with their guns
but the highwaymen had disappeared in the woods. The robbers, knowing that Mr. Collus had had a very busy day at the rink that day, it being Lutheran re-union day, thought they could make a rich haul if they held him up. Another man, whose name could not be learned, was held up near Monterey while riding along in his automobile, but the robbers did not get anything of much value.

TO START INSPECTION

Will Begin Inspection of Nurseries of State.

Inspection of the nurseries of the State will be inaugurated next week
under the direction of State Zoologist H. A. Surface, and it is the plan to have inspectors cover every nursery tree, shrub or plant in the whole State and have a complete record of every establishment so that the work can be handled in conjunction with the inspections of nursery stock which are made at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other points. The fruit, grape and berry business of Pennsylvania is growing at a very rapid rate and efforts are being made to minimize the dangers from diseases and insects.

The inspection in the western end of the State will be in charge of Enos B. Engle, the chief nursery inspector, while T. W. Windle will have charge of the work in the eastern half. To Mr. Engle will fall the work of inspection in Erie County, which has more nurseries than any other in the State, some of them of large extent and of big value.

NO MARRIAGE LICENSES HERE

New Law Requiring Parties to be Same and not Afflicted with Transmissible Disease in Effect.

Discouraged and disheartened by the provisions of the new eugenics law
approved last week by Governor Tener, Cupid has ceased operations in Adams County, for the time being at least,
and as a result not one prospective
groom has made application before Clerk of the Courts Olinger for license to wed.

Under the new law both parties
must certify that they are of sound mind, without any transmissible disease and not a member of any home for indigent persons, in order to be able to secure license. The law provides that certification of the bride's and groom's fitness to marry shall be made in writing but as the forms and necessary books have not yet been furnished it is up to our own clerk,
together with those in other counties of the state, to ask questions until such forms are provided.

For years the persons applying in Gettysburg for license have been asked
"What is the color of both parties?,"
to which the groom would frequently reply with some little show of indignation that both were white. Now it may be found necessary for the clerk of the courts to put questions like these, "Are you drunk?"; "Are you perfectly sane?"; "Are you depending upon charity for your maintenance?"

The State Department of Health is to prepare and provide the court clerks with a proper form of application for licenses, and may revise the form from time to time as may be necessary. The law says:

"No license to marry shall be issued where either of the contracting parties be an imbecile, epileptic, of unsound mind, or under guardianship as a person of unsound mind, nor to any male person who is or has been within five years an inmate of any county asylum or home for indigent persons, unless it satisfactorily appears that the cause of such condition has been removed and that such male applicant is physically able to support a family;
or, if at the time of making application is under the influence of an intoxicating liquor or narcotic drug; and no license shall be valid for a longer period than sixty days from the date
of issue."

When the right to a license is not made to appear, the clerk shall refuse to issue it, and shall at once certify the proceeding to the proper Orphans' Court, notifying the applicants of his action. The application shall be heard at the earliest possible time by the Judge of the court, without a jury in court or in chambers, and his finding that a license ought to issue or ought not to issue, shall be final, this action to cause no expense to applicants. Nothing in the law is to be construed to authorize the marriage of persons not of legal age without the consent of parents or guardians.

UNRULY BOYS

Gang of Boys Defacing College Buildings to be Taken in Hand.

For the past week a crowd of small boys has been at work on the college grounds defacing the buildings and making themselves generally objectionable. Stones have been used to break windows, chalk marks and writing are to be found over the exterior of Glatfelter Hall, an effort was made to break one of the locks at the Gymnasium and the crowd were found in South College one day having fine sport with the shower baths. A colored urchin of about thirteen summers is chief of the outfit which has been asked several times to stay away, but without effect. It is now stated that, unless the parents of the boys prevent their further visits to the college grounds, the necessary legal steps will be taken to prevent a recurrence of the annoying practices.

LID WAS ON TIGHT AT PEN-MAR PARK

Sunday Amusements Forbidden and Souvenir Stores are Frightened
over Action of Authorities. Several Arrests for Violations.

Pen-Mar Park presented a unique condition Sunday. A great silence pervaded the unusually lively mountain resort. There was no skating or riding the merry-go-round in tune with the "canned" music which accompanies
those two recreations.

The silence was broken only by the sacred concert at the pavilion by the Pen-Mar Orchestra. There was no diversion save to sit and listen to the orchestra, and all because of an automatic organ which played not wisely
but too continuously.

Warrants several days ago were served upon W. W. Libby, Jason Crout, H. C. Criley, O. D. Sherley and other men operating amusements or selling souvenirs in the park, for violating the law by operating their places
on Sunday.

Notwithstanding this fact, a number of concessions were open and at a few places soft drinks, cigars, etc., could be bought.

To-day before Justice Doub these men are to be given a hearing.

Those indicted are greatly exercised over this sudden enforcement of the law after having been allowed to run their places for years without restriction.

The outcome of the hearing will be awaited with anxiety by the proprietors of the various places, as the closing up of things on Sunday will kill the big end of their business.

COUNTY EXPERT

Selects Adams County Man to Give Expert Advice.

Announcement was made by Secretary of Agriculture, N. B. Critchfield, of the appointment of the ten experts who are to give advice to farmers on soils and methods of farming under the terms of the North act. These experts are to cover the entire state, responding to requests for advice on problems in practical farming and aiding in agricultural developments. They are to be paid $1,500 a year with expenses. An appropriation of $40,000 was made for the purpose.

The experts named are: Franklin Menges, York, and R. P. Kester, Grampling, soils and crops; Charles G. Mc-Clain, Ringgold, Jefferson county, soil drainage and water supply; M. E.
Conrad, West Grove, Chester county,
and L. W. Lighty, East Berlin, Adams county, dairy husbandry and stock breeding; W. Theodore Wittmann, Allentown, and Frank Kline, Spring City,
poultry; Sheldon W. Funk, Boyertown, small fruits and market gardening; E.
B. Dorsett, Mansfield, co-operation and general farming, and Mrs. Jean Kane Foulke, Chester county, domestic sciences and household economies.

OLD MAIDS' HOME

Unique Provision in the Will of Anna
L. Gardner.

If the provisions of the will of Anna
L. Gardner are successfully carried out
York will have a home for old maids.
This institution will be unique and probably the only one of its kind in the country.

Miss Gardner died about a week ago
and left an estate valued at $400,000.
In her will she provides for the erection at a cost of 150,000 of a home for worthy aged and unmarried women of good character and habits in the State of Pennsylvania and not less than 50 years of age who by misfortune in business or diminution in estate or means of support may not have sufficient to maintain themselves in comfort and refinement which they were accustomed to enjoy.

The proposed institution will be known as The Hahn Home. According to the will it will not be "an asylum for paupers, nor the insane, nor a retreat for the vicious, nor a haven for those afflicted with contagious or infectious diseases."

The remainder of the estate after the erection of the home must be invested and the income used to maintain the institution.

TENT CREW HERE ON THURSDAY

Chaut a Crew will be here to Erect Tent, Put Piano in Shape,
Test Lighting Facilities and Do
Other Work.

The erection of a big tent is always an interesting sight, but Thursday, July 31st, the day before the Gettysburg Chautauqua opens, people who care to watch the process will have an exceptional opportunity.

From an early train, half a dozen clean cut young fellows will pile off and without much ceremony begin to erect the big top on Prep Campus.
These fellows are not the average type of tent erector. They are all college boys, most of them from Swarthmore College. A lean, square-jawed young man, Aubrey E. Fox, is captain of this "set-up crew". His jaw tells part of the story of the rapidity with which the great canvas auditorium assumes form.

Fox leads off in the setting of the stakes, and Hunter and Caldwell, the other "huskies" of the crew, have to hustle to keep his pace. The big brown tent which is eighty by one hundred ten feet, soon adds a pleasing touch to the surroundings. Then, with the help of some of the neighborhood youngsters, anxious to earn a free ticket to the Junior Chautauqua, fifteen hundred or more chairs are unloaded and placed, the big sectional platform set up, the piano tuned, and electric lights strung into place by the special piano tuner and electrician who travel with this crew.

A seven hundred foot canvas fence is then set up around the big tent, two smaller tents erected in the enclosure,
and the Erection-Crew is ready to go to the next town. One tent up each day, Sundays excepted, from May 24th until September 20th, is the schedule of this busy crew. Friday August 1st they set up the Chautauqua Tent at Dallastown.

The concerts afternoon and evening by the Florentine Band will be the big attraction on the opening day of the Gettysburg Chautauqua.

FAMILY REUNION

Mrs. Mary Boyd's Children and Grand Children at Gathering.

On Sunday the descendants of Mrs.
Mary Boyd, of Freedom township, held a reunion at the home of Mrs. Fannie

Dula, Clara, Charles and Stewart
Boyd, of Freedom township; Mildred,
Allen and William Dubbs, of Gettysburg, Mrs. William Sence and daughter, Beulah, who is the only great-granddaughter, of White Hall.

IMPROVING

Auto-Motorcycle Accident Victim Continues to improve.

William B. Yantis, who was injured in the automobile and motorcycle collision two weeks ago near Abbottstown, is improving under the care of the members of the family and a trained nurse, Miss M. Edna Keefer, of St.
Mary's Hospital, Philadelphia. The attending physician is Dr. John E.
Meisenhelder. Charles Asper, of Aspers Station, who drove the auto when the accident occurred, called on Mr.
Yantis at his home in Hanover last week.

CRISIS NEAR IN MEXICAN AFFAIR

Shooting of U. S. Official Aggravates Trouble.

REPARATION IS DEMANDED

Government Feels That Action to End State of Anarchy in Southern Republic Must Be Taken at Once.

Washington, July 28. — If another scrap of evidence were needed to demonstrate that the Mexican situation is badly in need of a remedy, the shooting of Charles Dixon, United States immigration inspector, by federal soldiers at Juarez, on Saturday.

The Dixon shooting was made the occasion of the most vigorous representations yet ordered by the state department. Aside from the gravity of the incident in itself, the wantonness and reckless defiance of the United States which inspired the occurrence has proved to Washington that the United States, its authority and its representatives are being regarded with contempt in Mexico.

Representations were made, both to the military authorities at Juarez, Mexico, opposite El Paso, Texas, and to the responsible authorities of the Huerta government in Mexico City. Through Consul Edwards, at Juarez, and Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy at the American embassy in Mexico City, peremptory demands were made for speedy reparation and redress for the offense.

Consul Edwards has demanded the arrest and confinement of all the federal officers and soldiers concerned in the shooting of Dixon. It is not known definitely in Washington whether his demands have been acceded to in this respect. The consul has also been busy gathering the names of witnesses to the shooting and seeing that these witnesses were not spirited away. He also demanded that permission be granted for the removal of Dixon to an El Paso hospital, which it is reported has been granted.

Washington feels that it is on the eve of a momentous decision upon the part of the administration in regard to Mexico. What that decision will be nobody seems to know, but that it will be a turning point in the situation no one doubts.

Out of the tension of the last few days has come unanimity in regard to at least one fact in the Mexican trouble, and that is that something must be done at once. Even Secretary of State Bryan, who has been reluctant to admit the gravity of the Mexican situation, now holds this view.

Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico, will meet the president in conference again. That the ambassador is determined to put up a stiff fight in defense of his views is certain, and on his success depends not only his own official fate, but also to a great extent the whole policy of the United States toward Mexico. If he fails to impress his views on the president, according to the best informed, his failure will terminate his official career in the diplomatic service of the United States and may precipitate an explosion in regard to the Mexican situation.

The president and the ambassador may part company at the very first proposition in the Mexican situation. The ambassador will urge as a cardinal principle of his policy the recognition of the Huerta government and other steps calculated to throw the entire support of the United States government to the side of the Huerta government and discouragement of all movements in opposition to him.

START FIRE WITH OIL

Two Women Burned to Death and Man Seriously Injured.

New York, July 28. — Mrs. Eliza Johnson, forty-five years old, and her sister, Mrs. Emma Franklin, sixty-three years old, are dead, and Martin Johnson, forty-three years old, was seriously burned as the result of an explosion in the Johnson home.

Mrs. Johnson and her sister, Mrs. Franklin, who came to New York recently from Susquehanna, Pa., for a visit, were starting a fire in the kitchen stove, using oil, which one of them dashed on the smoldering wood.

The explosion set fire to the dresses of the women, and in running from the house the women threw themselves upon Johnson, whose clothing also caught fire.

Ax and Mule Kill Children.

Birmingham, Ala., July 28. — George Hogg, a farmer of Searle, Tuscaloosa county, lost three children in a series of unusual accidents. While he was cutting wood his ax flew from the helve and struck his infant in the head, killing it instantly. He carried the body to his home and there learned that two of his young sons had been killed to death by a mule.

Hidden Pistol Kills Child.

Tampa, Fla., July 28. — A revolver hanging behind a picture on the wall accidentally exploded and killed six-year-old Rosta Gastano. With a playmate, Rosta had been swinging the picture by pushing it with a broom. The picture and the pistol came down and the revolver exploded as it struck the floor, the ball entering the little girl's brain.

TRANSFERRING CONVICTS FROM SING SING PRISON
Sixty-seven of the most turbulent convicts were transferred under heavy guard from Sing Sing prison at Ossining, N. Y., to the state prison at Auburn after several days of which the prison was twice set on fire. The first fire destroyed three large shops and the prison lumber yards.

MEXICAN REBELS BADLY DEFEATED

200 Are Killed and 300 Are Taken Prisoners.

Mexico City, Mex., July 28. — The combined rebel forces of Generals Amave Elizondo, Herrojon Garcia and Gertrudis Sanchez, 2500 men in all, were badly defeated in a battle in the north by 1000 federals under command of Lieutenant Colonel Ramirez.

The federals used their artillery to good effect. The rebels had no cannon. The rebels lost more than 200 killed and 300 were taken prisoners. The federals also captured 100 pack mules laden with provisions and an enormous quantity of munitions of war. The federal losses are not given.

Another cabinet change is announced, and one more is expected shortly. The resignation of Senator Esquivel Obregon as minister of finance has been accepted. It is learned on unimpeachable authority that the government intends to send Rodolfo Reyes, the minister of justice, and a son of General Bernardo Reyes, on a foreign mission.

The minister of government summoned the editors of the Mexican newspapers to his office and urged them to be more considerate in referring to Americans. He assured the editors that the Mexican government was satisfied that the American government and American citizens are not enemies of Mexico's peace and sovereignty. The minister added that Provisional President Huerta had received unofficial telegrams from Washington which convinced him of this and that the American government had already assumed a more considerate attitude toward Mexico and was allowing this country to tell its side of the story. He announced that hereafter the Mexican government would send copies of all its telegrams about happenings in this country to the American government.

PIGS ARE SIAMESE TWINS

Four Perfectly Formed, But Each Has Eye in Forehead.

Kittanning, Pa., July 28. — Four pigs attached together as were the Siamese twins were brought here by William Silves, of Manor township.

The pigs were born a few days ago and are in perfect health. Each pig has four legs, a tail and a nose, but strangely enough, possesses only one eye, and that is set in the middle of the forehead.

Silves was endeavoring to ascertain if there was not some way of preserving the lives of the pigs.

Dog Wildly Drives Horse.

York, Pa., July 28. — A pet bull pup in the rig of W. B. High, left standing before the home of a patient, yanked the reins with its teeth and caused the horse to run away, endangering a number of persons in its course. The vehicle finally collided with a tree and the horse was badly hurt. The dog, which had coolly maintained its seat, came through unscathed.

Protests of Innocence Kill.

Chambersburg, Pa., July 28. — Declaring, until he became unconscious, his innocence of the charge of stealing a diamond scarfpin, George Walters, of Chester, died in prison here of spinal meningitis. He had been an orderly at the White Pine Sanatorium, and it was charged that he took the scarfpin from the effects of a patient who died.

THREE TRAINS ARE WRECKED

Conductor Killed and Several Others Injured.

ORDERS ARE MISUNDERSTOOD

Fast Passenger Train Crashes Into Wreckage of Two Freight Trains at Slatington, Pa.

Easton, Pa., July 28. — One dead, several injured and the Lehigh Valley main line piled with the wreckage of two freight trains and fast passenger train No. 5, westbound, is the result of a double wreck which occurred at Slatington, Pa.

Henry F. Woppel, of Easton, Pa., conductor of one of the freight trains, is dead.

The more seriously injured are: V. A. Zerby, John Hays and John Wydeck of Philadelphia; W. D. Hoiser, fireman on the passenger train, of Sayre, Pa.; Carmine Nardone, of Newark, N. J.; C. E. Crosby, of New York City.

Several others were injured, but only in a minor manner.

That the list of dead and injured is not frightfully large, is regarded as miraculous, as the double-tracked system of the Lehigh Valley was blocked with the debris composed of parts of the three trains.

The first wreck took place when, through a misunderstanding of orders, two freight trains, both eastbound, collided rear-end. The caboose and several cars of the first freight train were demolished, killing the conductor, who was caught in the caboose, and battering the engine of the second freight.

The wrecked and derailed freight cars and the engine were thrown on the westbound passenger tracks, just as the westbound Lehigh Valley fast passenger train No. 5 was due. There was no time for the crew of either freight train to send out signal men or warn the nearest dispatcher.

The passenger train, running at fifty miles an hour, crashed into the mass of freight wreckage and contributed an engine and three coaches to the mass of splintered wood and twisted metal. The engineer and fireman of the passenger train had not the least warning of the danger until they saw the wreckage of freight cars come within the radius of their headlights. The quick appliance of the air brakes lessened the shock to some extent and probably saved several lives.

The passenger train was well loaded with passengers for Buffalo and beyond, as it is a through train. It is a Pullman throughout, carrying nothing but sleeping cars, buffet and drawing room cars.

The responsibility for the wreck has not been placed, though it is said the crew of the second freight train was the one that was running out of orders. No blame is attached to any one for not flagging the passenger train, as it was due at the place of the wreck at the very time it occurred. Before the freight crews could disentangle themselves from the wreckage the passenger train was upon them.

ATHLETE IN TRIPLE RESCUE

As Drowning Boy Pulls First Life-Savers Down, Third Appears.

South Bethlehem, Pa., July 28. — Victor J. Abel, former star football and base ball captain of Ursinus college, saved three lads from drowning in the Saccon, at Stever's Island, Hellertown.

Harold Gross, a ten-year-old lad, and two chums ventured into the water. Gross suddenly sank and when his young companions went to his aid he seized them around the neck and all three sank.

Abel happened along and plunged into the water, effecting the triple rescue.

BATH STEWED THE MULES

Somebody Had Turned on Steam and Water Was Hot.

Ashland, Pa., July 28. — When three mules were being driven into a tank at the St. Lawrence colliery for their weekly bath they balked. One ran away and the second mule fell dead in the water, while the third will die.

Upon investigation of the tank it was found that the water was boiling hot, steaming having been turned into the tank during the day without the knowledge of the drivers.

Two Walk Plank From Burning Home.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 28. — Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rosenberger escaped from their burning home at Steelton by walking a narrow plank from the roof to an adjoining dwelling. The plank was ten inches wide and a six-foot space separated the houses. The Rosenbergers were aroused by fire and found escape cut off by the stairs.

2837 Arrests During Paterson Strike.

Paterson, N. J., July 28. — During five months of the Paterson silk strike all previous records for calls and arrests were broken, according to figures published here. During the five months there were 2113 calls and 2837 arrests. Of the arrests 936 were of women.

Plunges Down Shaft to Death.

Tamaqua, Pa., July 28. — Walter Wyde, a machinist repairman at No. 14 colliery of the Lehigh and Navigation company, plunged 260 feet down the shaft and was killed.

CREW SNICKERS AS BANDITS DISPERSE

Hold Up Train, But Forget Powder to Blow Safe.

Homestead, Mont., July 28. — The eastbound Northern Coast Limited on the Northern Pacific was held up by three masked men a mile and a half west of Homestead.

The attempt resulted in a farce, for the would-be robbers got nothing. The train was stopped with torpedoes taken from a bridge watchman who was held up shortly before the limited was due.

The desperadoes compelled the engineer and train crew to uncouple the engine and express car from the rest of the train and proceed ahead, leaving the train on the other side of a tunnel about 400 feet distant.

When the engine was brought to a stop one outlaw announced that he had forgotten to bring the "giant" along; that the powder was back with the train.

The incident brought forth snickers from the trainmen, which were stopped by the firing of shots. The bandits then disappeared among the rocks, and it is said that they left the scene on horses which they had tied nearby.

KILLED FOR A DEBT OF $2.50

Alleged Murderer Holds Crowd at Bay, to Be Caught Later.

Selbyville, Del., July 28. — Angered because Elisha Walters would not pay him $2.50, which he claimed was owing to him, Hilton Handy is alleged to have shot Walters.

The bullet imbedded itself in Walters' right lung and the man lived for an hour, dying on a train taking him to a Philadelphia hospital.

Pointing his gun at the crowd that had collected, Handy backed away and climbed into a buggy and drove off. He was captured by State Detective Walter Thomas at Fenwick Island. Both men were colored.

Tread Barefoot on Copperhead.

York, Pa., July 28. — Treading upon a copperhead snake when he stepped barefooted from the house after midnight to investigate an unusual noise, Elmer Switzer, of York New Salem, was bitten upon the foot. His leg is badly swollen. Switzer felt a sharp sting as he stepped from the porch, and on lighting a match was in time to see the reptile, about three feet in length, making its departure.

Murderer Gets $25,000.

York, Pa., July 28. — J. Warren Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jenkins, of Gatchellville, who was convicted at Cheyenne, Wyo., upon the charge of murdering his wife while in that place, has fallen heir to her estate, valued at $25,000. Jenkins was sentenced to be hanged last October, but an appeal is pending in the supreme court.

Anthony, Keedysville, Md.; third vice president, John Heckert, Dallas-town; secretary and superintendent, the Rev. E. H. Hummelbaugh, Frederick, Md.; treasurer, Adam Kohr, Hanover.

THE ROAD.

I sing you an ode
Of the country road,
The lumpy road
And the bumpy road
That jolts the wagon and spills the load,
Mud to the hubs when the rain comes down,
Flooded wherever the creeks run high,
Filled with ruts when the fields are brown,
And the sun is hot and the air is dry.
It's clogged with gravel and packed with sand,
So built and graded and laid and planned
That it takes a team
And sometimes two
To do the work one horse should do.
It racks the wagons with jolts and jars;
It ruins horses and motorcars,
Keeps back crops from the market place,
Piles up debts on the farmer's place.
The old time road is a plain disgrace.
But the modern road is a different thing,
A worthy theme for the bard to sing.
Put together
For every weather,
Smooth and dustless and good to see,
And graded right, as a road should be;
Useful always and muddy never,
A thing of beauty, a joy forever.
—Berton Braley.

Well, It is a Good Motto.

A Sunday school teacher, speaking to her pupils on moral cleanliness, offered a prize for the best written or printed motto that would teach the lesson of personal purity.

"Remember," she said, "that the motto must bear especially on the necessity for inward cleanliness—the purity of a heart as pure and spotless as polished gold."

Last Sunday one of the smallest of the boys handed in a placard printed in big black letters.

"Where did you get this?" the teacher asked.

"Swiped it this morning off Tony's bootblack stand outside the corner bar-room."

The motto read: "Shine Inside."—New York Sun.

TENER SIGNS 857
BILLS; VETOES 238
Governor Disposes of Legislature's Measures.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 28.—Every one of the 197 bills passed by the recent general assembly has been disposed of by Governor Tener.
In all the governor approved 857 bills, of which a large number carried appropriations, and vetoed 238 bills, 75 of them during the session and 163 after adjournment. Several bills were recalled after passage by the two houses, some being repassed with changes.
The last of the copy for the printer was sent out by the department of the secretary of the commonwealth, which receives the governor's action on all bills and prepares them for the pamphlet laws.
Among the vetoes of appropriations was that of the $25,000 item for the purchase of a silver service for the battleship Pennsylvania, the governor having been informed from Washington that it was the intention to transfer the silver service presented by the state to the cruiser Pennsylvania, now the Pittsburgh, to the new super dreadnought, named in honor of the Keystone State, when it goes into commission.
The governor in vetoing the bills for bridges across the Susquehanna at Middletown, Herndon and Dubolstown declined to commit the state to the policy of building bridges, except when destroyed. An appropriation of $45,500 was made for the relief of sufferers by the breaking of the Austin dam.

FALL FROM HAY LOAD FATAL
Farmer's Wife Is Killed When Horses Run Away.
Franklin, Pa., July 28.—Mrs. Powers Reed, thirty-six years old, died from injuries received in falling from a load of hay near Franklin.
Farm hands are so scarce in the section that women are helping in getting in the crops, and Mrs. Reed was on a hayrack assisting her husband, when the horses ran away.
The wagon upset and the woman alighted on her head, fracturing her skull. She died without regaining consciousness. She leaves six children.

STRIKE AVERTED
ON BIG RAILWAYS
Managers Waive Claim to Arbitrate Their Demands.

WIN BUT A SINGLE POINT

Award of Board to Be Effective October 1, Instead of Dating Back to May, as Asked.

New York, July 28.—The threatened strike of 80,000 trainmen and conductors on forty-five eastern railroads for higher wages and better working conditions faded away when the managers of the eastern trunk lines waived their claim to the right to ask arbitration of five roads' grievances.
As a consequence both sides will meet to select, under the Newlands act, two arbitrators apiece, whose meetings probably will begin in New York city not later than Sept. 15. Any award will date as of Oct. 1, and will be binding for one year.
The decision of the conference of railroad managers to abandon their claim was reached when it became clear that the men would not brook much further delay. They insisted that the railroads had "put one over" on them in the amendment of the Erdman law, and therefore they, the employees, could not arbitrate anything not mentioned in the list of grievances submitted many months ago.

The proposal that their own grievances against the men also should be arbitrated, the managers announced they had relinquished to "protect the public" from a tie-up which the employees said they intended to force if the railroads persisted in pressing their point.
The peaceful outcome of the dispute was the result of efforts made by the board of mediation and conciliation recently created in the hurriedly passed Newlands act to meet the situation. The board, consisting of Judge William Lee Chambers, Judge Martin A. Knapp and G. W. W. Hanger, brought about the agreement after conferences with the disputants, which continued more than a week.

With the elimination of the eight grievances for which the railroads desired consideration, the articles of arbitration comprise, without alteration, the sixteen original demands presented by the conductors and trainmen. The only point gained by the railroads was a provision that the award of the board of arbitration shall take effect Oct. 1 next, instead of May 1 last, the date requested by the employees.
The articles were signed on behalf of the men by W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and A. B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, and for the railroads by Elisha Lee, chairman of the conference committee of railroad managers.

The members of the mediation board returned to Washington, where they will report to President Wilson. The board will not again be called into action unless the four arbitrators named by the railroads and the men fail to agree on a fifth and sixth to complete the arbitration board. In that contingency the mediation board will select two new members.

PASTOR BURNS VESTMENTS
Condemns Creed in Statement After Spectacular Desertion.

Charlottesville, Va., July 28.—Rev. Charles Steele Davidson, who had trouble in 1900 with his vestry in the Church of the Holy Apostles, Greenwood avenue and Windsor terrace, Flatbush, where he was known as "The Little Minister," and whose pastoral activities elsewhere won him repute for doing things out of the ordinary, has taken spectacular leave of the Episcopal ministry by burning his vestments and prayerbook at the gate of Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson.

Dr. Davidson wrote out a statement renouncing the church as the "haven of aristocracy," and proclaiming himself a preacher hereafter "for all the people."

"I charge that the Episcopal church is the gentleman's church in general, and in Virginia in particular," his statement runs. "It is powerful financially and socially, stupid intellectually and spiritually dead. It needs a change of heart, repentance or utter obliteration. It favors the rich and the cultured and has no vital interest in the poor and the common. It either segregates the poor in missions on the back streets or relegates them in the churches to the back pews."

Find Dying Man in Street.
Harrisburg, Pa., July 28.—Molisa Moroni, sixty years old, a laborer, was found dying on the pavement in front of his boarding house by policemen. He was unconscious and his skull and nose were broken. He died three hours later at a hospital, and the police are of the belief that he was thrown from a window with murderous intent.

Crimes in Italy Charged.
Shamokin, Pa., July 28.—Two special officers from the United States immigration bureau at Ellis Island arrested Tony Passetti and Louis Comenalis here after a search of eight years. Passetti was charged with the murder of a fellow countryman in Italy, while Comenalis was wanted for burglary.

St. Luke's picnic will be held, August 9th, in Weikert's woods back of the church. Everybody welcome.

A LITERARY ROMANCE.
Pathetic Ending of the Love Story of the Poet Laforgue.

In George Moore's "Impressions and Opinions" is told the touching love story of the poet Laforgue, who was reader to the empress of Germany. One winter day in Berlin Jules saw a girl skating as none ever skated before. The grace of the waist, the flowing hair and the feet lifted beneath the dark skirt filled him with happiness. The beautiful skater was an English girl.

He resigned his place as reader to the empress and married, and he and the beautiful English girl came to Paris in the hope that literature would yield them a living. But Laforgue's genius was of the kind that wins the sympathy of the elect, and instead of making his living with his pen Jules grew more and more consumptive.

I have heard that the young people lived in a poor apartment—two or three rooms—and that the beautiful English girl, now stricken with the dreadful malady, passed between the rooms with thames. Friends climbed the high stairs to see them on Thursday evenings; a few admirers attended Jules' funeral and published the volume he left in his desk, "Les Mornes Legendaires," the girl died soon after—two or three months.

How did she live during the brief interval? Where is she buried? No-body knows. Yet I have a separate and complete sensation of these two little lives.

Thieves and Their Feet.
A city missionary whose work brings him in contact with thieves was interested in their frequent mention of a certain chiropodist whom they had patronized.

"I shouldn't think," said the missionary, "that men of your calling would have either the time or the money to fool away on chiropodists."
"We're just the kind that need to fool away time and money on them," one ex-burglar explained. "Of all persons on earth men in our line can least afford to be made nervous by bad feet. Creeping around in a strange place in the dark is ticklish business at the best. It requires above all things sound feet and comfortable shoes. To kick a corn or bunion against a rocking chair or the corner of a bureau might knock the most profitable job of the season into a cocked hat."—New York Times.

Poor Girl.
"May I tell you the old, old story?" he asked.
She looked down, blushed and nodded her assent.
So he told her for the twenty-seventh time how he once won the game for Yale.—Brooklyn Life.

YOUR HAIR TURNING GREY OR FADED

Restored Immediately To Dark Beautiful Color by Hay's Hair Health

There is no need of any one now-a-days having grey or faded hair, or dandruff either, that causes it to fall out constantly. Falling hair and dandruff ruin a beautiful head of hair in no time and grey and faded hair make you look so much older than you really are.

Hay's Hair Health used regularly will bring your hair back to its natural color quickly and more effectively than anything else. It is so easy to use; just apply a little at night, according to directions, and you'll be delighted and surprised at the almost immediate change. Often a single application will do wonders towards restoring the hair to its natural color. People everywhere are using Hay's Hair Health in preference to any other preparation to restore their hair to its dark, beautiful, glossy natural color, because it does it so much quicker and more satisfactory and is so much nicer and cleaner to use.

Druggists will refund your money if Hay's Hair Health is not satisfactory after a fair trial.

Free: Sign this adv. and take it to the following druggists and get a 50c size bottle of Hay's Hair Health and a 25c cake of Harina Soap free, for 50c; or $1.00 size bottle of Hay's Hair Health and two 25c cakes of Harina Soap free, for $1.00.

THE GRANGE

SOME GOOD IDEAS

On Co-operation, Natural and Artificial.

Much Co-operative Endeavor Has Failed to Succeed in Working Against Inviolable Laws of Nature, Trade and Economics.

[Special Correspondence.]

In every discussion of co-operation, which now is upon every mind, it will be well for us to keep in mind certain facts which ought to be self evident.

Let us outline some of those facts. The market will not take what is inferior or what is not demanded. Co-operation begins naturally by working together with the natural laws as we have found them out. One soil will not raise some crops well. There will be no use of trying, therefore, to produce on such soil a crop, even though it be demanded. Or, again, without spraying certain crops reach not their best worth; without certain fertilizers certain crops attain small result; without selection certain cows will not yield in fats or quantity the milk which is wanted. The knowledge we have to day of plant growth, animal breeding and soil conditions offers a chance of what we might call natural co-operation.

The public wants certain things. It does not want, perhaps, what is raised. There will be no use in trying to make the public take what it does not want. Co-operation must have to do with the taste of the consumer. A Jewish community does not want pork nor the common American the wherewithal of sauerkraut. A butter district does not want Holstein cattle unless enormous producers nor the milk supply districts Guernseys and Jerseys unless they, too, are large producers.

Economically we cannot get away from the law of supply and demand. We may by some means get the "bulge" of the law, but we shall never get far away from it. Like the moon's path on the sun's elliptic, we shall find all prices, high or low, coming back to the great curve. To load the market with milk or hay or eggs when it is glutted is hopeless work. No bolstering can hold up a price on a loaded market. Co-operation must be with the economic condition.

When any man comes forward to speak or to think of co-operation with the consumer or with his neighbor producer he should bear in mind these simple postulates. Great discouragement has come in much co-operative endeavor by violation of, as far as we know, inviolable laws of nature, trade and economics.

The man who is ready for co-operation is he who has co-operated with his soil for its best production, with the knowledge of plant culture and animal selection for their most bountiful results, with his market for its approval of his high grade and wanted product and with the great natural and perhaps worldwide demand for some staple or continually necessary thing.

Co-operation will be brought about successfully by no legislature or association, which is artificial co-operation, unless the one seeking it has the credentials and the goods on him of natural co-operation.

Lectures on Rural Hygiene. A new kind of extension work is to be taken up by the Maine state board of health in connection with the granges in the use of illustrated lectures for instruction in "Rural Hygiene" and for the dissemination of information in regard to "Some Dangers to Rural Homes." The lectures are to be given by Mrs. Kate Ellis of Fairfield, Me., a well known and popular grange speaker and one of the instruct-

Medical advertising AID THE KIDNEYS

Do Not Endanger Life When a Gettysburg Citizen Shows You the Way to Avoid It.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a tested remedy is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in kidney trouble over 50 years, have been tested in thousands of cases.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, act now. Dropsy or Bright's disease may set in and make neglect dangerous. Read this Gettysburg testimony.

W. B. Flaharty, 311 Washington St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and I willingly recommend them. I was injured some years ago and at that time my kidneys were affected. I got various remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly cured me. Whenever I have taken them since then they have done good work."

Cured by Our Reliable Skin Remedy, Saxo Salve.

Mr. Joseph R. Williams, of Alliance, Ohio, says: "I recommended Saxo Salve in a case of Eczema of thirty years standing, and after its use not a trace of the disease was left. It also cured a bad case of Eczema of the scalp, where the man had scratched so much it had become calloused and cracked open. It is all healed up now. I also find that one application does away with Ringworm. I keep a tube on my work-stand, and use it for all skin troubles I come across. I have had a good deal to do with skin troubles for the past forty years, but Saxo Salve beats anything I ever saw."

Saxo Salve is wonderfully healing in all kinds of skin diseases. We cheerfully give back your money if it fails to benefit. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

P. S. As a constitutional treatment take Vinol. We guarantee it will purify and enrich the blood.

Painful Corns Removed —By New Painless Remedy

You're a chump to suffer a day long —Everyone of those stinging corns can be peacefully and quickly removed by painting on Putnam's Corn Extractor. It's really a marvel how Putnam's Extractor takes out the pain how it draws out the soreness, how it lifts the corn right out y the core. It is a neat clean job that Putnam's Extractor does—no remedy so quick and sure as a 25c bottle of Putnam's Extractor—sold and recommended by druggists and People's Drug Store.

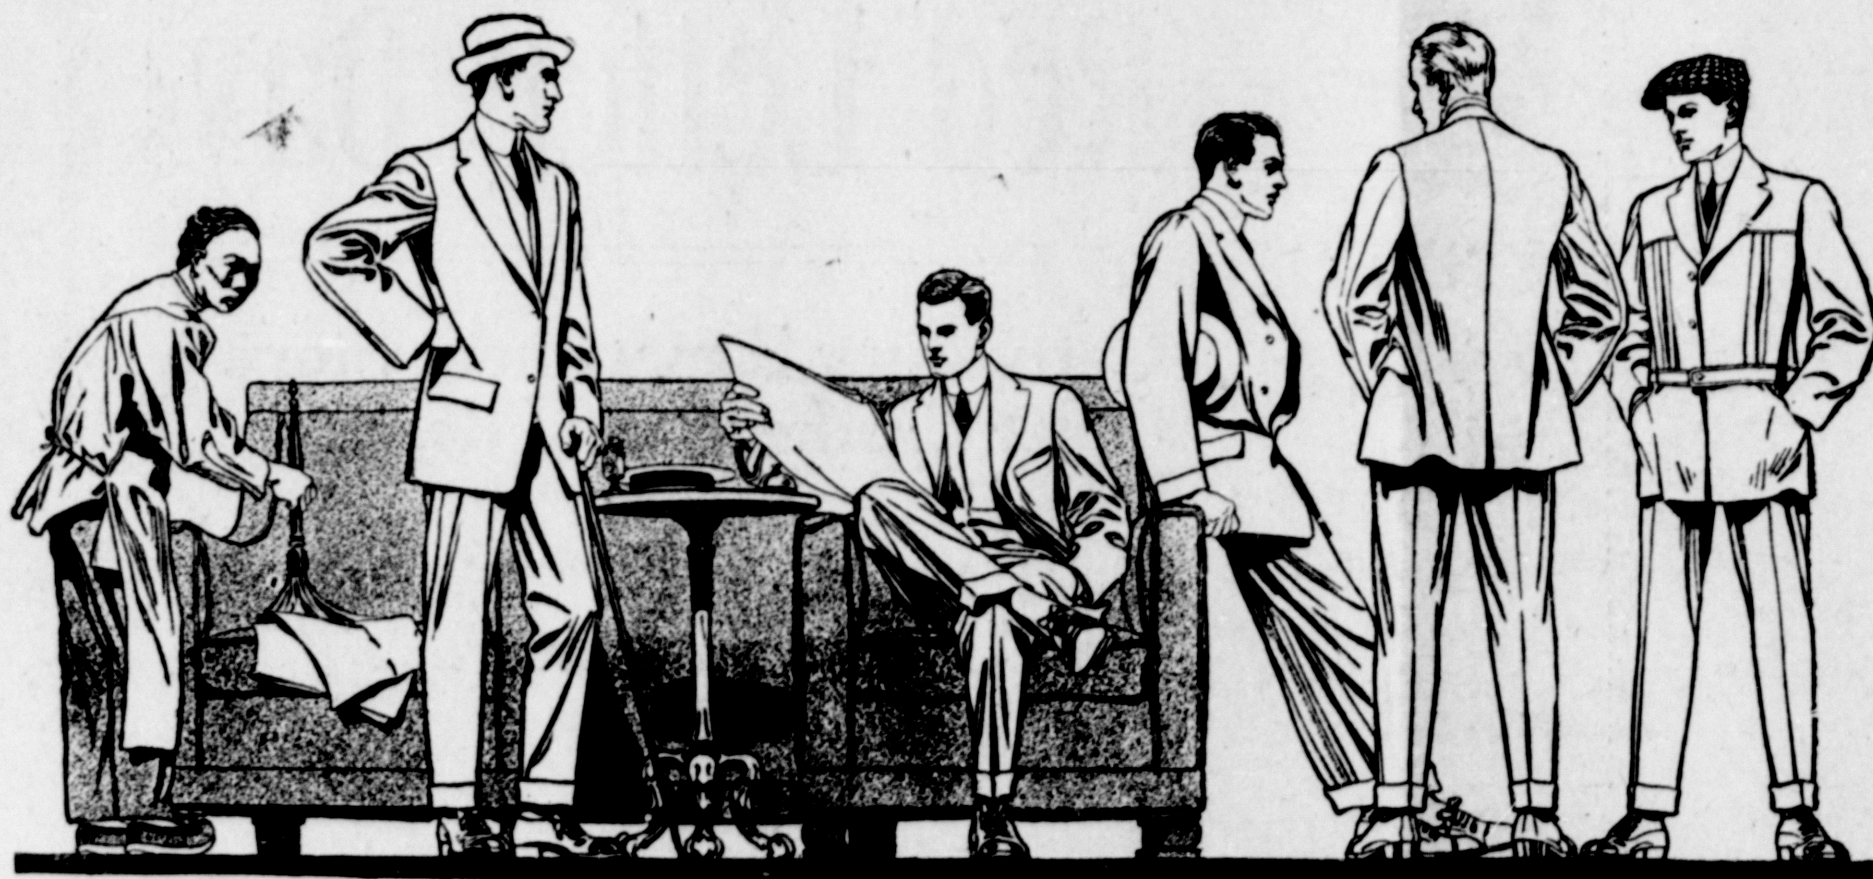

ing and inspecting deputies of the Maine state grange. She is very popular among the grangers, and more than that, she is very greatly interested in work of this kind for the improvement of farm life.

The illustrations for the lecture have been prepared by Dr. A. G. Young, secretary of the state board of health, who has secured a stereopticon for use in showing the pictures. The lectures will be given for the most part before the granges of the state.

Fattening Lambs.

If the lambs are to be fattened for market start them on a little grain just as soon as they will learn to eat it, and feed grain continuously with good pasture until they go to the block. Prime fat ribs cannot be produced by alternate grass and grain. They must be pushed to lay on fat from the start to the finish.
